Fast 50 sneak peek: These are Kansas City's fastest-growing companies of 2022 (from A-Z)

Jun 23, 2022, 1:29pm CDT

---

This year's Fast 50 is one of the most competitive groups in recent history.

The List, which requires businesses to attain revenue of $1 million or more in 2021, saw all 50 companies report growth in excess of 64.7%. That's 38 percentage points higher than last year's List.

While some of the fastest-growing companies "benefited" mathematically from a sizeable dip in revenue during the pandemic-challenged 2020, those companies still needed to come back roaring in 2021 in order to make their two-year average revenue growth rate sing.

Here's an A-Z look at Kansas City's 50 fastest-growing companies based on average annual revenue growth from 2019 to 2021. (The final Fast 50 rankings will be revealed in our July 15 weekly edition.)

Despite the pain caused by the Covid-19 pandemic, only seven of this year's Fast 50 companies saw their revenue fall from 2019 (pre-pandemic) to 2020 (heart of pandemic).

Although it may seem easier for small businesses to gain entry to the Fast 50, this year almost half (23) of the companies are classified as middle-market companies — which we've defined as $10 million to $1 billion in revenue in 2020. This year, there's also one member of the billion-dollar club on the List.
